UNION NOMINATION.

FOR GOVERNOR.

SAMUEL CONY.

The Reception of the Nomination.

The broad and liberal action of the great Union State Convention held in this city on Wednesday—ignoring as it did all former political affiliations—is having its just and legitimate effect upon the minds of the people. It is seen that the highest motives of patriotism alone actuated the great body of delegates, who assembled to represent the masses of the State. The Republicans, who now hold the government of the State, and have held it for almost ten years past, voluntarily laid aside their organization, and cordially and sincerely invited loyal democrats to meet them upon the broad and patriotic platform of sustaining the government in this hour of our national peril, and to form a great National Union party. The democrats nobly responded to that call, by accepting the invitation in the broad spirit in which it was made. The nomination fell upon a Union Democrat, of unimpeachable loyalty, and a well known ability, and Gov Coburn in rising in the convention gracefully and most heartily acquiesced in the nomination, with the entire concurrence and by the authority of Gov Coburn himself.

The indications, even from a single day's observation, clearly show that the nomination is an exceedingly strong one. Thousands of Union Democrats and straight Whigs will support it who would not have been active, to say the least, in support of a straight Republican nomination—and we have not yet seen the first Republican, who has not expressed his entire willingness to acquiesce in the patriotic action of the Convention.

The responses from the press of the State have not yet been generally received, but meantime we give the following from the Bangor Times, which represents the Union Democratic element:

The Republican party of this State, the honest masses of it, with unbounded ability to elect their candidates on a strict party basis, have patriotically and magnanimously refused to act in such a narrow spirit, and have voluntarily chosen from the ranks of their old opponents, a life-long Democrat and loyal man, who has heretofore been their most hated blows. It was well and handsomely done, and we know that every Democrat worthy of he name will accept this olive branch of union in the spirit in which it was tendered. Henceforth, in this State, there are but two parties—patriots and traitors. Those who are laboring for the preservation of the country, in all its integrity of domain and its unity of institutions, will be found arrayed under the banner upheld by Samuel Cony.

Loyal Democrats of Maine! You who have one particle of influence with your Democratic neighbors and friends, the hour has come when you are called upon to do all that lies in your power to compact, consolidate, organize, and discipline the truly loyal men of all shades of opinion into an army capable of totally routing and annihilating the political abominations in this State whose sole purpose is to afford aid and comfort to Jeff Davis in the work of overthrowing the Government.

We must put Samuel Cony in the Gubernatorial Chair in September by such an overwhelming vote that these jailed Democrats will never acknowledge that there was any contest. And we shall do it.

The Death of Capt. Coan.

ORONO, June 27, 1863.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier

I write to announce the death of Capt. Abbot Coan, Company A, 12th Regiment Maine Volunteers.

I have just been permitted, by the kindness of his afflicted widow, to peruse an interesting letter, written by Major General N P Banks to her, giving some particulars of his last sickness and death, and of the estimation in which he was held by his superior officers, which I am sure you will esteem it a pleasure to publish.

Captain Coan was born in Exeter, Penobscot county, Maine—came to Orono some 10 or 12 years ago, and here established his residence.—In October, 1861, he volunteered for the war, and in company with Capt Farrington and Lt Wilson, all of Orono, succeeded in less than four weeks in raising a full company, who enlisted for the war.

This was properly called the Orono company, but its military designation was company F, 12th Regiment Maine Volunteers, and attached to Butler's New England Brigade.

He went to New Orleans as 1st Lieutenant, and on the promotion of Capt Hastings of company A, same regiment, in the fall of 1862, Lieut Coan was promoted as Captain, and assigned to the command of company A, for brave and meritorious service.

His age was 29 years—of medium stature, iron mould, with strong and vigorous constitution, and of great and quick muscular power—and a full and energy possessed by few. He was quiet and unobtrusive in his manners, yet intelligent and genial as a companion and associate.

As a member of the Masonic Fraternity, and for a long time Master of the Orono Lodge, he was held in the highest estimation and very generally regarded as unexcelled in the mysteries and labor of the craft.

He was married in the fall of 1861, and not long before starting for the war, to a daughter of Mr Samuel Dudley of Orono. By her he has an only son, who bears his name.

May a kind Providence protect and shield the afflicted, disconsolate widow, and the young orphan boy, and stay the hand and strengthen the heart to brave and battle single-handed and alone the uncertainties and trials of earth.

Capt Coan has gone to his long home! No more shall we see his manly form and smiling countenance. The grave may cover his mortal remains, but the spirit has gone to Him who gave it, and his memory will ever live fresh and green in the hearts of all who knew him.

How he performed his duties as a soldier and an officer, General Banks's letter speaks for itself, and is but a just, grateful and honest tribute of a brave and noble superior officer to the memory of a departed noble and brave Captain in his service.

Yours, &c., N WILSON

Mrs. ABBOT COAN, Orono, Maine,

Madame—I was present during the last illness of Capt. Coan, and with him at the moment of his death. He died on board the steamer Empire Parish on the Atchafalaya River, May 17th, at five minutes before 12, midnight, without suffering and without a struggle. His spirit parted from its tenement as a feather floats upon the air. The sleep of a child could not have been more gentle, nor promised a sweeter rest.

It gives me pleasure to assure his friends that he had the best attention while on the steamer and also, as I have been informed before he came on board. The Chaplain of the Regiment Rev Mr Bray, was constant in his attendance with the Captain of another Regiment, and a private in Captain Coan's command. The Medical Director of the Department, Dr Alexander visited him every half hour during the day, and was with him at the moment of his death. Capt Coan was a man upon whom the officers called whenever important or perilous service was to be performed. He died as it were in battle, although fal ing by disease. It was to gar isoning, against the remonstrances of his surgeons, in accompanying his command through all the combats and marches of a campaign as arduous and as important in its results as any that has occurred, that he compromised death. He deserved to be remembered. He died regretted by all those who had known him, in the service of his country, in which he had been faithful in every position and to every duty. The presidence of friends, and the completion of the patriotic service to which he was engaged—that of restoring the peace of his country—would have made his death-bed all that could be desired for a Christian and a soldier.

I have the honor to be, with much respect your obedient servant, N P BANKS, M G C

STRAWBERRIES WANTED. The ladies of the Sanitary Commission desire us to say to all who have strawberries to sell, that they will find a market for them on Friday night or Saturday morning (the latter preferred) by presenting them at the City Hall. ACCIDENT. Yesterday morning, while one of the coaches of the Exchange was engaged in carrying passengers to the depot, the forward axletree broke near the Bangor House, swinging a debut in the iron, tipping the coach over and considerably bruising the heads, arms and legs of the inmates. It is a wonder that more serious injuries were not sustained.

They desire to prevent the people from attending—but will not succeed. The celebration will be one of great interest, and will call together a big crowd.

☞ It is said the guns on Fort Knox are to speak on the Fourth of July. They had better not speak unless they are spoken to, and then in language not to be misinterpreted.

Correspondence of Whig & Courier

AUGUSTA, July 2 1863

The nomination of Hon Samuel Cony as the Union candidate for Governor, has given great satisfaction to his many friends in Kennebec county and throughout out the State. If any change was to have been made in our executive no person could be better chosen than Judge Cony. He is a man whom the people of this State will be proud to call their Governor. A democrat at the commencement of the war, he took the position of devotion to the Union rather than to party ties and associations, and no alleged shortcomings of our National Administration or quibblings concerning the constitutional mode of carrying on the war, have swerved him from the path of unconditional, uncompromising support of the government in all its efforts to put down rebellion. He has not been a professed democrat merely, but practical. While acting as Assistant Paymaster General of the State he advanced largely, from means which could have been much more profitably employed, to pay soldiers when the money could not be obtained from the State Treasury. General Hodsdon in his last Annual Report, speaking of the aid received throug this source, says

"The State is under deep obligations to Hon Samuel Cony of Augusta, for his active exertions in her behalf commencing with the rebellion and continuing up to the present time in all emergencies requiring the disbursement of funds, (for which no provision of law existed) to or on account of troops raised for the service of the General Government. Indeed, serious embarrassments would have been experienced on several occasions, had he withheld his means and influence in this behalf, relying only upon the sense of justice in future legislatures for reimbursement. Judge Cony's services as Acting Assistant Paymaster General in the disbursement of State bounties, have been most arduous and perplexing, and have received no adequate compensation."

The 23d and 25th regiments are expected at Portland tomorrow, and a portion of the 27 h to be mustered out of service.

The last monthly return of the 13th regiment shows an aggregate of seven hundred and twenty-four members. Present, six hundred and sixty six, absent on detached duty, fifty three, absent sick, two, absent with leave three. The regiment is stationed in the forts below New Orleans, which are under the command of Col Rust, who will give a good account of himself and his regiment, should the rebels undertake any much of it.

Yours respectfully JOHN SMITH

PHILADELPHIA, 2d

The Bulletin has the following special regarding the rebel attack on Carlisle

Harrisburg, July 2.—A demand was sent for the unconditional surrender of Carlisle, but Gen Smith promptly refused to give up the place, when the rebels placed a battery of six pieces in position to the left of the barracks and commenced to shell the town Gen Smith replied from his guns, which were mounted in Main Street, near the centre of the town During the shelling, the rebels made a detour around the railroad, and fired the barracks. The Gas Works were also fired, the gas from which are said to have burned several lumber yards, one private dwelling, and several farms Several citizens are known to be injured The Custom House was damaged, and several shells fell upon the Uplegge buildings and grounds Gen Lee then sent in another flag of truce, notifying the women and children to leave the town by 10 this morning Every confidence is felt in Gen Smith's ability not only to hold the place, but unless the rebels rapidly retire his flanks and rear will be obstructed and his force probably captured The occupancy the county gives Gen Lee a force of 8000 cavalry, and one battery of six guns, light 12 pounders.

AN AN MERABLE SHEET .We have before us a copy of a paper styled the New York Copperhead, which was brought home by one of our returned soldiers It is full of treasonable matter, served up with any amount of low and flippant language. We could use following paragraph as a fair specimen

"The people of Ohio return a cur and ill omened party leader burglar and kidnapper, now living in Washington, and facetiously term him self the President of the United States, to recall Vallandingham from exile We are sorry to see Democrats' disgrace to get themselves in that manner"

It would seem that such stuff as this, in which the columns of the Copperhead abound, ought to nauseate all but congenial minds, but still it may do considerable harm when spread broadcast among poorly informed people Such sentimental abuse of free speech ought to leave its penalties at a time when the natural salvation depends upon the efforts of the loyal, but if the paper was suppressed, as it should be, every partisan Democratic sheet at the North would set up a howl over an invasion of "the right of free speech"—Boston Journal

There are many papers in the country which are daily or weekly in the habit of using language full of the seditious as the above, and far more dangerous to the country than even—and yet as the Journal truly says, the suppression of such sheets would cause the fiercest yowl of pretended indignant from every "Democratic" paper in the land.

The Battle Fierce and Bloody.

REBEL OCCUPIES TULLAHOMA!

The Enemy Evacuate Precipitately, Leaving Strong Fortifications

BALTIMORE, 3d—1 A M

The American has the following account from Gettysburg

Major Bugartin and another officer of the staff of General Reynolds, arrived here yesterday with the body of General Reynolds From Major Bugartin we learn some particulars of the battle, and are happy to be able to say it closed for the day with the army of Gen Meade in a most advantageous position either for attack or defence Nearly all the remaining divisions of our army reached the field shortly after the firing ceased for the day

At 9 o clock Wednesday forenoon the 7th and 11th corps reached Gettysburg, entering from the east and west the town, and marching directly through to the west side, the cavalry force of the enemy in town retreating as we advanced

In passing out the west end of the town the enemy was observed, advancing rapidly from the Chambersburg turnpike in line of battle on the town, evidently endeavoring to hold an advantageous post commanding the town

The 1st corps, under Gen Reynolds, pushed forward at double quick to secure an advantageous position

The enemy, under Longstreet and Hill, advanced steadily, and in a few minutes, a heavy fire of both artillery and musketry was opened along the whole of the federal and rebel lines

The 11th army corps, under Howard, was soon in position, and for a time quite a heavy battle raged

Several charges were made by the enemy to dislodge our forces, all of which were unsuccessful

At 8 o clock the enemy massed his entire forces and endeavored to turn our right

Gen Reynolds advanced to meet them and a heavy infantry fight ensued, in which both suffered severely, volley after volley of musketry being poured into opposing columns with deadly effect In this charge Maj Gen Reynolds fell, mortally wounded, and Gen Meade being conveyed to Gettysburg died He was, as usual, leading his corps, and in the thickest of the fight Gen Paul, commanding the 81 Brigade 1st corps was also killed on the field and Colonels Wistar and Stone wounded and taken prisoners. The field between the contending armies is strewn with dead and wounded It is said that the enemy suffered fully as heavy as we, altho it is not known what their loss was in officers The effort to flank our right wing entirely failed and we hold the prominent and commanding position for which the struggle was made, at the close of the fight, which ceased for the day at about 4 P M

At this time two more corps of Meade's army reached the field, and during the night the main body of our army was in position to meet any demonstration the enemy might make in the forenoon, or to advance on him, as the commanding General might decide The 1st army corps nobly maintained its position against the efforts to flank its right, and scarcely faltered for a moment, when its gallant commander fell under a murderous fire of the enemy,

A great and decisive battle was considered imminent and notwithstanding our severe loss in officers the advantages of the day were ours

Meade it was thought, had concentrated his forces to a greater extent than the enemy, a large portion of whose army was scattered up through the Cumberland valley

Another account Some gentlemen connected with the press from Gettysburg at daylight reports the condition of affairs at the close of the fight Wednesday, to have been still more favorable, and promising a successful issue They state that the rebels had held Gettysburg for some time previous to the approach of our army, and had not only occupied but commenced fortifying the hills west of the town, where they proposed to check our advance towards Chambersburg and the mouth of the Cumberland valley

The rapidity of Gen Reynolds' movements took the rebels by surprise, and he soon gained a prominent position which they were fortifying

The fighting through the balance of the day was a futile attempt of the enemy to gain this important post from which they were frequently repulsed

Early in the afternoon, both Longstreet and Hill combined their forces for a grand effort to turn our right flank, when Howard's 11th corps, which broke and ran at Chancellorsville, dashed in to regain their lost laurels, and most nobly did they repel these two veteran corps of the rebel army The repulse was so complete that no further attempt was made during the balance of the day, and night closed in with our forces holding the position chosen by the enemy to give us battle

The 3d and 12th army corps came on the field after the last repulse of the enemy, but owing to the fall of Reynolds and the lateness of the hour as well as exhaustion of men and a desire to take care of the wounded, it was determined not to push the enemy for a renewal of the conflict — When our informant left the field yesterday, Thursday, A M, Gen Meade had arrived, and the main body of our army was in position and ready to push the enemy as soon as day should dawn

Gettysburg is just 25 miles east of Chambersburg over a fine rolling country most of the way, which will doubtless be the scene of the great battles of the rebel invasion.

NEW YORK, 2d

The Herald's Harrisburg despatch of the 2d says the battles at Gettysburg was fierce and bloody and from all we can learn rebellion has received its mortal wound Cannon, small arms and the field are among the trophies.

NEW YORK, 2d

The World's Harrisburg despatch says firing heard all night proceeded from Carlisle, where Gens Smith's and Gilpin's forces surprised a body of Confederate troops who are said to have mistaken our cavalry for theirs and let us come upon them unprepared. The fight became general and lasted from 9 30 to 10 o'clock. Our forces numbered 6000 or 7000; the enemy's strength is not given. We drove the enemy from the town after they had fired the barracks which were totally consumed, with two or three other buildings Their retreat was made to Papertown An Aide of Gen Smith was taken prisoner by the enemy

WASHINGTON, 2d

The following was received to-day at the headquarters of the army—

Headquarters, Army of Cumberland
Tullahoma, Tenn, 1st
Via Murfreesboro 2d

To Maj Gen Halleck, Gen in Chief

I telegraphed you Sunday the occupation of Shelbyville and Wanchester

Only Monday it rained hard all day rendering the roads impassible It was found impossible to move our artillery or to get troops into position until Tuesday forenoon, when a general advance was ordered

Gen Thomas yesterday made a reconnoissance on two roads, and Gen McCook on one road reporting the enemy in force at this place with the addition of Buckner's Division, which arrived Monday evening On advancing this A M it was found that the enemy had fled in haste last night, with much demoralization, leaving strong fortifications and three siege guns in our possession They took the direction of Winchester, Tenn Gen Thomas is on their flank to night. Gens Sheridan and Brannan marched into town at 11 30 to-day, taking a few prisoners Signed

W S ROSECRANS,
Major General

NEW YORK, July 2d

The Times' Harrisburg despatch says there has been no fighting of moment between Gen Smith's force and the rebels to day Gen Smith occupies Carlisle, and the enemy have apparently gone in the direction of Gettysburg Our scouts are in pursuit Our loss yesterday was one killed and 16 wounded, among the latter were several of the 87th N Y militia After the fight at Oyster Point, 16 dead rebels were counted.

WASHINGTON, 2d—midnight

Up to this hour Government has not received any official news of yesterday's fight near Gettysburg The fact of its not being immediately telegraphed is considered by officers here as indicating that no decisive result has been reached

Only meagre rumors are received from the battle field, and are happy to be able to say it closed for the day with the army of Gen Meade in a most advantageous position either for attack or defence Nearly all the remaining divisions of our army reached the field shortly after the firing ceased for the day

POOR RICHARD'S EYE AND EAR WATER.

This is the Best Preparation in the World!!

READER, are you aware that every time you think, speak or act, you draw on your eyes for strength to do so? Now you are under no alarm, but up in the prison of disease, no neighbor may meet us sorrowful with if you do not call my their claim (which is a small one) for all the sorrows they render to you continually. They are crying to you for help every blood streak is a voice. Heed their cry, and save yourself by saving them. Give them a drink of POOR RICHARD'S EYE WATER, Morning and Night. This is all they ask, and they will positively keep your body out of the prison house of disease. They do not want to see you in expectations. Try them and prove them. By faithful perseverance, Deafness can be cured and prevented.—Bathe both eyes and ears.

A Remarkable Cure in Bangor.

I, W. H. PRITCHARD, do certify that my wife Esther B., has had Weak Eyes from childhood, caused by measles. One year since a lump appeared on the back of her eye. It increased to the size of a large pea. Becoming somewhat enlarged about the prog ress it was causing I took my wife and Mrs. M. G. BROWN, at the hindrance she told me she could remove it, and further strengthen her eyes. Mrs. B. applied her medicine as above order in the evening, and at nine o'clock the lump was gone. We could see no mark of it. My wife can now see people walking on the other side of the street quite distinct and never do before. She thus always had headache when riding in a carriage. Yesterday, when riding in a carriage, she had no return of headache. My own eyes were treated here or three times by Mrs. Brown. I find them much strengthened W. H. PRITCHARD

UNIVERSAL

BASED on real claims to the confidence of the public by its perfect simplicity, and freedom from every component which in any way places restraint on its use, Day or Night, by Old or Young, but to find the real secret of its true character and results, to which these ends can testify, by its being made the Pocket, Nursery or Sick Companion of all, and the enemy to all Throat and Lung Complaints, by using it every hour, if necessary, or when there is the least teasing in the Throat or disposition to Cough. By such freedom of use it

CURES

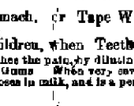
Coughs,
Colds,
Sore Throat,
Bronchial Complaints,
Hoarseness

and all such, as when neglected, end in

CONSUMPTION!

To Public Speakers and Singers it is most valuable, as it goes in the foundation, clears the Throat, and prevents the prostration which follows great exertion.

As a Nursing Syrup its simplicity calls for special attention, as the most delicate infant may take it with the greatest freedom.



HUNNEWELL'S

This Preparation, by its splendid results, has shown the great necessity of a true Nervous and Spasm allay Cough Medicine, to go to work on such complaints, completely relieving the pains, and leaving no state of debility behind.

Among the ailments of this nature proposed from its use are Coughs, Colds, Sore throat, Bronchial Complaints, Hoarseness, Croup, and reaching only through the Stomach, and in most all these, time and money is wasted by the use of Liniments and Lotions.

Let this preparation be fairly tested and it will be found worthy the name and fame of a true

ANODYNE!

IT CURES

Neuralgia,
Rheumatism
Gout,
Tooth Ache,
Ear Ache,
Nervous Head Ache,
Distress after eating,
Fits,
Hysteria,
Nervousness,
Spinal Complaint,
St. Vitus Dance,
Cholera Morbus,
Pains in Stomach and Bowels,

also, the chief of all causes of disease and insanity

LOSS OF SLEEP!

☞ To the Sleepless Invalid it gives the most refreshing sleep

To females, suffering the pains of Monthly Menstruation, it completely relieves, while Nature's work is understood. This is of great importance, as it is the subsequent dates most, if not all, wrecks to the Nervous System, and Chronic Female Complaints.

For Stomach, or Tape Worms, it is a sure remedy

For children, when Teething, it completely soothes the pain, by diluting with milk and rubbing the Gums. When very severe give it in 5 to 10 drop doses in milk, and is a perfect relief.

DILIOUS PILLS

This Valuable and Simple PILL excels for character on being the true type of a CATHARTIC,—simple, though thorough in action, seldom requiring but a single PILL for a dose, or one at night and one at morning—acts without the least griping.

AND CURES

Dyspepsia,
Indigestion,
Biliousness,
Loss of Appetite,
Jaundice,
Humors, &c. &c.

For HEAD ACHE, when caused by a foul Stomach, they are a perfect relief.

For WORMS are a perfect remedy.

As a FAMILY PILL they have no superior.
